DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

The reply filed on April 3, 2006 is not fully responsive to the prior Office Action because of the following omission(s) or matter(s): Applicant states that applicant “elect Species I, claims 1, 9, 16, and 17.” Applicant also cite MPEP 806.04 and argue that claims are never speices, and that the Examiner’s determination that “the species are defined by the claims is clearly incorrect.” To clarify, the Examiner restates the election requirements below.

The species are NOT defined by the claims. Claims 1, 9, 16 and 17, each contain multiple species. The species are:

- I. transducer to power a sensor;
- II. transducer to power an actuator; and
- III. transducer to power a control unit.

Claim 15 also contains multiple species. The species are:

- IV. device manufacturing method sensing an illumination system;
- V. device manufacturing method sensing a projection system;
- VI. device manufacturing method sensing a patterning device; and
- VII. device manufacturing method sensing a substrate.

Applicant’s response lacks election with respect to claim 15.

Applicant argues that the Examiner failed to present any analysis of why there exists a serious burden to search. A serious burden exists because the rejections based on a transducer which powers a sensor and a device manufacturing method sensing an illumination system are easily overcome by applicant by merely deleting the limitation, and the examiner must then start search other area for a transducer to power an actuator and a device manufacturing method sensing a projection system. Unless applicant takes the point of view that a reference which teaches a transducer to power a sensor would make obvious the transducer to power an actuator and a control unit or a device manufacturing method sensing an illumination system makes obvious sensing a projection system, a patterning device and a substrate, a serious burden does exist.

See 37 CFR 1.111. Since the above-mentioned reply appears to be bona fide, applicant is given ONE (1) MONTH or THIRTY (30) DAYS from the mailing date of this notice, whichever is longer, within which to supply the omission or correction in order to avoid abandonment. EXTENSIONS OF THIS TIME PERIOD MAY BE GRANTED UNDER 37 CFR 1.136(a).
